'28 Was A Great Year!

by Ray Amundson

Where does one start in trying to capture moments of fifty years ago? Back to the year book we go. This was only the third time that four-year degrees were awarded, so naturally it was the largest four-year class ever to graduate in the schools seventy years of existence. A class of twelve, four men and eight women, received bachelor of education degrees.

Debate

Debating at the Winona State Teachers College has completed another year with greater success than any time previously. An interesting question to study and debate, good material with which to work, an efficient coach, and the support of the student body have all contributed to the success of this activity.

The question for debate, one used by many of the mid-west colleges was: Resolved. That the United States should cease to protect, by armed forces, capital invested in foreign countries, except after formal declaration of war.

The affirmative was upheld by Philip Houghtelin, Harold McCormick, Joseph Paskvan, and William Schroeder. The negative was supported by Andrew Tweito, Leo Dahm, Paul Bard, and Henry Schroeder.

A dual, formal decision debate, was held with LaCrosse Teachers College, both decisions of which were given to Winona. A dual contest was also held with St. Thomas College of St. Paul, Winona losing a 142-57 audience decision there, and winning a 2-1 judge decision here. Informal debates were held with Macalester College, Eau Claire Normal, St. Mary's College, and Winona High School.

Mr. Fishbaugher is doing a good piece of work as a debate coach, and an even more successful year is anticipated for 1928-29; While it has been possible this year to schedule debates with some of the larger colleges, it is hoped that next year a conference of triangle colleges may be formed in debating.

An Ardent Debator

John Robert Fishbaugher was rather reluctant about talking to the reporter. He declared that for him pleasure always came before business, and that he was about to retire for the day. He did, however, make this comment, "Please don't give me a write up, but you may say anything you want to about my father."

We feel that this is an excellent opportunity to tell of a small yet interesting event in the life of Mr. Glen E. Fishbaugher.

An ardent debator

The children in the Junior High School were playing Charades. Mr. Fishbaugher very cleverly chose "Prophet" for his word to be acted, and swaggered across the platform eating a Hershey bar. The children could not grasp the meaning of the word thought of by the master mind, and to help them, Miss Brunner suggested, "Mr. Fishbaugher is the only one in the room, who could dramatize that particular word."

No sooner had the suggestion been offered than it found solace in the mind of Karl Dieffenbach, who jumped up from his seat and cried, "I know, I know — Fish food!"

We wish to thank John Robert for the privilege of printing that intimate glimpse of the Great—.

DECEASED

Melvin Doner

Dr. Melvin Hazelton Doner, age 68, passed away November 20, 1977. He joined the J. R. Watkins Company (now Watkins Products, Inc.) of Winona in October 1935, as entomologist and developed a line of insecticides, animal nutrition and medicinal products. He was one of the first commercial entomologists in the country and one of the first to do research with DDT. He was in charge of the Farm Line Laboratory and worked closely with the rural sales department and experimental farm.

In August, 1967, he resigned from Watkins to join the Winona State College biology department faculty, where he served until ill health forced him to retire in February 1976.

He served on several committees of the National Association of Chemical Specialties Manufacturers, publishing articles in their trade journals and lecturing at national conventions. He is a life member of the American Association of Economic Entomologists. Dr. Doner was founder and member of the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Winona, a founder and former member of the Hiawatha Valley Bird Club, past member of Junto Discussion Club and former member of the Rotary Club of Winona. In 1956, he was a founder of the American Theater Organ Society, which now has an international membership of more than 6,000; and in 1961, he was recipient of its Honorary Member of the Year Award. He served as first editor of the publication, "The Tibia," or Theater Organ Magazine.

The son of Aaron and Ida Hazelton Doner, he was born at Plymouth, Wisconsin, October 7, 1909. He graduated from Plymouth High School in 1927 and held bachelor and master of science degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He was a member of Gamma Alpha, Phi Sigma and Sigma XI, national honorary scientific fraternities at the University. He married Eleanor Welsh in January 1935 at Portage, Wisconsin. Survivors are his wife, two sons, David M., Bloomington, Minnesota; and Dr. Landis W. Doner, Wyndmoor, Pennsylvania; two daughters, Mrs. John L. (Diane) Dosier, Forest City, Illinois; and Mrs. Carmine (Linda) Rosetti, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Harry Jackson

Dr. Harry Jackson, 76, Professor Emeritus of WSU, passed away March 3, 1977 at his home in West Salem, Illinois, where he had lived since retirement.

During his thirty-three years as a staff member of Winona State, Dr. Jackson served as head of industrial arts department and as chairman of the division of fine and applied arts. Prior to 1941, he was head football coach, bringing recognition to the campus by directing a conference championship team in 1939. Many will remember the Jacksons as house parents of Lucas Lodge. In that role, they established and maintained a close relationship with scores of young college students. Dr. Jackson was a former member of First Congregational Church and had served in several church offices, was active in the Winona Rotary Club and in the American Automobile Association in Winona.

The son of Andrew Lee and Sarah Bauer Jackson, he was born at Shelbyville, Illinois, October 3, 1900. He held a bachelor of education degree from Eastern Illinois Teachers College, Charleston, Illinois, and master of science and doctor of education degrees from Indiana University, Bloomington. On June 23, 1929, he married Genelle Voigt at West Salem, Illinois.

Before assuming his teaching position in Winona, he had taught in rural schools in Shelby County, Illinois; Cumberland College, Williamsburg, Kentucky; Indianapolis, Indiana Public Schools; and Eastern Illinois Teachers College.

He was president of the Edwards County, Illinois Senior Citizens and vice president of the Southeast Council on Aging, was past president of the West Salem Rotary Club and was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, Shelbyville, Illinois.

Survivors are his wife, one brother, Edward, Indianapolis, Indiana; and two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Welch, Shelbyville, Illinois; and Mrs. Mary Mishler, San Antonio, Texas.

We are all saddened by the loss of a sincere friend and devoted educator and feel that it would be most fitting to recognize his contributions to education, the campus and the community by the establishment of a permanent scholarship, "The Harry R. Jackson Memorial Scholarship Fund". We are certain that many of his friends will wish to honor his memory by participating in this memorial. The funds will be managed by the WSU Foundation under guidelines established by the Industrial Education Department and Mrs. Jackson. All checks should be made payable to Winona State University, "Dr. Harry R. Jackson Memorial Fund". Mail to: Winona State University Foundation, WSU, Winona, MN 55987. Attention: Dr. J. Kane, Secretary.

Les Kloempken

Dr. Les Kloempken, Professor of Educational Administration, at the graduate level in the WSU Education Department, passed away at the age of 52 on September 1, 1977.

The son of Frederick and Elizabeth Blum Kloempken, he was born March 29, 1925 in Stewart, Minnesota. He received his bachelors degree from St. Cloud, Minnesota and his masters and doctorate from the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks. He married Thelma Kohn, July 20, 1947 at Litchfield, Minnesota.

Dr. Kloempken, served in the navy in World War II on the aircraft carrier, USS Franklin. He had been employed by the Department of Defense in West Germany from 1962 to 1964.

He was a member of the First Congregational Church, Winona, Masonic Lodge 18, A. F. and A. M. Winona Scottish Rite Bodies and several professional organizations.

Survivors are his wife, one brother, Harold, Roseau, Minnesota; one sister, Mrs. Betty Fadden, Denver, Colorado; and six nieces and nephews.

Arrangements for a scholarship fund have been completed. Donations may be sent to the Leslie Kloempken Scholarship Fund, WSU, Winona, MN 55987.

"I Remember When..."

"Remember when daily attendance was taken in Somsen Auditorium?"

"Remember when students were required to pass a spelling test before graduation?"

"I remember when there was a barbershop in the basement of Somsen Hall and haircuts were a nickel."

These are but a few of the many comments I have heard while conducting campus tours on Alumni Day for the past eight years. Alumni Day is a time to compare past and present physical aspects of the WSU campus as well as reminisce about campus life.

As a member of the Winona State University Alumni Society Board of Directors, I thought it would be a good idea to compile some memories of how things used to be at Winona State. These will be distributed during the campus tours on Alumni Day, April 29, 1978, and published in the Summer issue of the ALUM.

Please return the bottom half of this page with any recollections you would like to share with other alumni to me at: Alumni Affairs Office, Winona State University, Winona, MN 55987.

1952 Graduate Reigns at 1977 Homecoming

Something new was added this year to the revitalized Homecoming activities at WSU. The reigning Queen at all festivities was a member of the royalty from the Class of 1952. Madeline Feil Macemon of Hutchinson, Minnesota, was Alumni Homecoming Queen. At the coronation ceremony held on Friday night, October 14, 1977, she was escorted to her exalted position by WSU President Robert Hanson. He crowned her Alumni Queen just before she took her position at center stage. She watched as Mary Johns, WSU senior from Maple Plain, Minnesota, and Chris Linde from Stillwater, Minnesota were selected and crowned Queen and King for 1977.

Madeline also presided at the Saturday luncheon held in Kryzsko Commons just prior to the Homecoming game (WSU was busted by the Beavers of Bemidji State). All members of the 25th year class, Class of 1952, were specifically invited to the luncheon.

Members of other classes present at the luncheon have generated sufficient interest to schedule a luncheon and reunion for the 25th year class at next year's homecoming. We hope a member of the 25th year class royalty will come back to the campus as Alumni Queen to preside over the 1978 Homecoming festivities. We already have someone in mind from the Class of 1953.

Thank you Queen Madeline for adding such a regal touch to our Homecoming activities.

Class of '53, we'll be in touch with you to make plans for an even greater Homecoming in 1978.

A QUARTER'S WORTH

Alumni Society Scholarships

The Alumni Society this year awarded $3,450 in the form of scholarships and a work-study grant. The following are students who received the four $300 scholarships:

Mary Ellen Jones, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Jones of Lime Springs, Iowa. Mary graduated from Harmony High School, Harmony, Minnesota and is a sophomore at Winona State. She enjoys jogging, reading and volleyball.

Scot L. Ender, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Ender, Cedar Falls, Iowa. He graduated from Cedar Falls High School and is a freshman at Winona State. Scot plans to major in business and is on the baseball team at WSU.

S. Ender

D. Sim

I. Kryzer

Dean L. Sim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sim, Lewiston, Minnesota. He graduated from Lewiston High School and is a sophomore at Winona

State. Dean is the leader of a local rock band, Charade.

Ida Kryzer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kryzer, Lewiston. Ida is a junior majoring in business education and office administration. Ida's mother, Cornelia Gernes Kryzer, and her two sisters, Cleo and Avis, are all graduates of Winona State. She also has another sister, Brenda, attending WSU. Ida enjoys sewing, biking and dancing.

Why They Choose WSU

Each year the university admissions office surveys incoming freshmen to find out why they picked Winona State. The results show freshman attitudes toward academic programs, financial aid programs, application procedures, and career opportunities. The survey also indicates who or what influences these students to apply at WSU.

Of the 850 incoming freshmen who pre-registered, 668 responded to the questionnaire. Of these, 74% were Minnesotans and 68% were women.

Consistent with previous surveys, most freshmen learned about Winona State through currently enrolled students and the university catalog. In each of the past three years over 275 freshmen have listed these two sources. Other sources mentioned were high school counselors, campus visits, parents, and admissions officers.

Personal contact seems to play a key roll in bringing these students to Winona State. Over half visited the campus before deciding to apply and 60% had spoken to an admissions officer. High school visits, college nights, college fairs, and campus visits were some of the techniques used to contact these students.

The specific degree programs offered at Winona State influenced students more than anything else. Nursing, business, and paralegal studies topped the list. College size, cost, and distance from home were also mentioned frequently. While 74% of the respondents said WSU was their first choice, many indicated they had applied at two or more other schools as well.

The class of '81 followed the trend of recent years in selecting future careers. The overwhelming majority, 530 of them, expect to seek jobs outside of the teaching profession. Many hope to find jobs in the health services—nursing, medical technology, and physical therapy. Others will pursue careers in business or the social sciences. Still others plan to take one of the university's pre-professional sequences and later transfer to schools of medicine, law, engineering, agriculture, dentistry, or pharmacy.

Most of the freshmen said they would need jobs or financial aid or both to help pay for their education, as their parents would be paying from zero to less than 50% of their expenses.

New VP Appointed

Dr. Sheila Kaplan will become vice president for academic affairs on May 1, succeeding Dr. Donald Warner, who will retire on July 1.

Dr. Kaplan is presently director of the City University of New York (CUNY) Baccalaureate Program of the Graduate School. She also serves as director of development, adult and professional education at CUNY and director of grants for the Institution of Research in History, New York City.

She received a bachelor of arts degree from Hunter College, CUNY; a master of arts degree from the School of Advanced International Studies, Johns Hopkins University, Washington, D.C., and Bologna, Italy, and her doctor of philosophy degree in history from CUNY's graduate school.

Dr. Warner became academic vice president in August 1968. Before that he was dean of arts and sciences at Central Washington University, Ellensburg.
